Living on a Few Acres (LOAFA) Conference & Trade Show

Date: Saturday, March 15, 2014

Time: 8:00 am - 5:00 pm

Location: Deschutes County Fairgrounds & Expo, Middle and South Sister Buildings, Redmond, Oregon

On-line Registration: <http://extension.oregonstate.edu/deschutes> (registration opens January 27, 2014)

Living on a Few Acres (LOAFA) is a one-day conference which targets small acreage landowners and farmers of all sizes. Over 32 classes will be offered to provide opportunities to learn about field management, small acreage concerns, growing specialty crops, animal health and nutrition, tractor safety and driving, water rights and wildlife control and enhancement. This year's conference will have a strong emphasis on cost-share programs and financial planning.

New classes this year will feature high tunnels, managing shared ditches, social media for farmers, how to start and operate a cut flower business, adding new enterprises to your business, and paddock alternatives. Livestock classes covering beef, sheep and swine will be offered. A special class on sheep and goat dairy production will be of great value to those interested.

Back by popular demand will be the tractor classes. So be sure to come learn how to operate a tractor, safely, and to hook up those farm implements correctly.

Farmer and Business Trade Show: If you are interested in having a booth at the trade show, contact Toni Stephan toni.stephan@oregonstate.edu, or call (541) 548-6088 for more information.

This event is being sponsored to a large degree by the Central Oregon Intergovernmental Council.

The conference is in partnership with Deschutes County Soil and Water Conservation District, Deschutes County Weed and Vegetation Management, Natural Resource Conservation Service, Jefferson County Soil and Water Conservation District, Central Oregon Intergovernmental Council, Central Oregon Irrigation District, Deschutes River Conservancy, Deschutes Native Seed Resources and OSU Extension Service.

Is There A Stream Or Pond On Your Property In Need Of Riparian Restoration?

The Oregon Conservation Reserve Enhancement Program (CREP) could be the solution to assist you. The CREP provides a cost-effective way for landowners to restore and enhance riparian vegetation along streams and around permanent water bodies.

An annual rental rate is offered, plus cost-share payments of up to 75 percent of the eligible costs to install conservation practices.

Administered through the Farm Service Agency (FSA), the CREP addresses conservation issues such as impacts to water resources, soil erosion, critical habitat, and reduced habitat for fish populations such as salmon.

The CREP is a community-based effort that emphasizes results-oriented projects, while presenting an opportunity to foster a partnership between producers, the state and federal governments, and the local soil and water conservation districts.

During the 10 – 15 year contract period the CREP provides payments to producers who offer to voluntarily remove riparian areas from production through the creation of a buffer (minimum 35') along the stream.

Common practices include riparian fencing, riparian planting, weed control, and off-site watering facility establishment. The program offers an additional one time sign-up incentive payment and a practice-completion payment.

If you would like additional information about the program, or would like to schedule a site visit please contact the CREP Planner for Jefferson, Crook and Deschutes Counties: John Speece, CREP Planner, (541) 923-4358 x 139.

Statewide Wheat Marketing Meetings

The Oregon Wheat Growers' League has resumed the Statewide Marketing Education Series Meetings. These bi-monthly meetings generally occur the third Thursday in October, December, and February, via Polycom video conferencing at various locations throughout the state. The OWGL website is at www.owgl.org or contact Sally Christensen, Member Services Director, Oregon Wheat Growers League, (541) 276-7330.

The last scheduled meeting will be Thursday, February 20. Central Oregon producers can view the monthly Polycom presentations at the COARC, 850 Dogwood Ln., Madras, or at the OSU Crook County Extension Service office at 498 SE Lynn Blvd, Prineville. Please call (541) 475-7107 (COARC, Madras), or (541) 447-6228 (Crook County Extension Service, Prineville), the day before to confirm your attendance and / or to make sure the meeting is taking place. Mylen Bohle

Multi-Peril Crop Insurance Program

The Risk Management Agency reminds producers of winter and spring sales closing dates for the Multiple Peril Crop Insurance programs and the Adjusted Gross Revenue Pilot, and the Adjusted Gross Revenue-Lite programs available across the PNW which cover most farm-raised crops, animals and animal products. AGR and AGR-Lite are based on a producer's five-year historical tax form information and an annual farm report to provide a level of guaranteed revenue for the insurance period. USDA will pay a portion of the premium.

Producers should contact a local crop insurance agent to learn additional program details. If there is no coverage in your county for a specific crop under the traditional MPCPI program, please ask your agent whether you would be eligible for coverage under a written agreement. (this information is from last year,)

A list of crop (and livestock) insurance agents is available at all USDA Service Centers or at the web site: <http://www3.rma.usda.gov/tools/agents/>. A direct link to the Spokane Office web site and information is: http://www.rma.usda.gov/aboutrma/fields/wa_rso/index.html#crop or contact Jo Lynne Seuffer, Risk Mgmt. Specialist, USDA at 1-800-205-9953. Mylen Bohle
