

Linn County Livestock Association

Linn County Livestock Association (LCLA) is a long-standing, non-profit organization formed to promote livestock activities and educational material. Producers of livestock, their friends and families, in addition to all those interested in preserving the American rural lifestyle are welcome.

Monthly breakfast meetings are held the second Tuesday of the month September thru May at 6:30 a.m. at the Pioneer Villa Restaurant, located at the Brownsville/Halsey exit off I-5. The October meeting is traditionally held, near Brownsville, at the Oregon Firearms Academy and co-hosted with Oregon Shepherd, a local wool-based industry.

The meetings are of an educational, as well as a social nature, with speakers selected by Shelby Filley, Livestock and Forage Specialist with Oregon State University Extension Service, and Joel Pynch, current Secretary of the LCLA.

An annual banquet meeting with a Lamb BBQ, key-note speaker, and usually some entertainment is held each winter, normally in February. Your membership and support are warmly welcomed. Please join up for the good of all concerned.

At this time we are also accepting donations in support of our Linn County predator trapper activities.
