4H ART CLUB

WASHINGTON COUNTY – TIGARD

Hello to the community,

This is an invitation for young creators to join a local group focused on the arts. We welcome all forms of expression! Join us twice monthly for fun, practice, and progress on personal projects. Bring a sketchbook if you have one!

Times: Wednesday, 7:00 pm, Oct. 9 and 23, Nov. 13 and 27, Dec. 11

Location: Parker Hall in Tigard United Methodist Church
9845 SW Walnut Pl, Portland, OR 97223

4H IS...

With more than 6 million members, 4-H is the largest out-of-school youth program in the United States. Oregon State University 4-H Youth Development Program has connected thousands of local youth to engaging hands-on learning opportunities and supportive adult partnerships. 4-H helps kids thrive by encouraging goal setting, enhancing relationships with others and connecting to their community.

LEADERS:

Peggy Ross is a teaching artist who's been inspiring students of all ages for over 25 years. She stitches, weaves, paints, collages and gardens. She's been trained for Kennedy Center and Young Audiences Arts for Learning residencies, and was awarded art in education grants by the Regional Arts and Cultures Council and Providence Medical. Peggy's involvement in 4-H began with her daughter's first rabbit 16 years ago. Now Peggy judges 4-H art at Washington County and State Fairs and serves on the Washington County 4-H Association Board and HEARTH Advisory. contact: reavrags@frontier.com

Paula Collins is a digital artist and animator with a BA in animation from the University of Southern California School of Film. She is currently attending Portland State University's graduate teachers education program and is a student-teacher in 5th grade at Bonny Slope Elementary. Paula is a Washington County 4-H Alumnus. She was a member of the Blooming Livestock and Rabbits club with rabbit, sheep and art projects. contact: talktalk23@gmail.com
