Dread your business meetings no more! Claire Sponseller
Business meetings are a necessary part of 4-H each year, but do you find yourself running out of ways to make it exciting? Join us to bring back life and learning to those business meetings! From roll call, to voting, to parliamentary procedure, there are many ways to get the results you need, but have fun doing it. With more than one way to do things - come pick up tricks to make those options possible for you and your club!

Reviving Civility Roberta Lundeberg
There is growing recognition that civility is necessary for individuals and organizations and that we need to be teaching discussion skills to our youth. Join us to learn techniques for talking civilly with those who think differently and how civility leads to positive youth development.

Perfecting Presentations! Deb Warnock
Come learn how to put together an award-winning presentation! 4-H Members can compete in four different types of communication contests. You will learn how to make your topic engaging, how to use visual aids and some tips that will make it shine!

We Go Together: Inclusivity in your 4-H Program Anna Browne
Come rock your perspectives on participation! Learn ways to serve and engage new 4-H audiences and members. Meet the needs of under-served populations and explore opportunities to involve everyone.

Session 2 – 11:10am-12:00pm

Demystifying Record Books Roberta Lundeberg
Records do not have to be an unmanageable and unpleasant task. In this session, you will learn why records are important, what records are needed, how to fill them out properly, and some techniques to make the whole job easier and even fun.

County 4-H Associations: Bylaws, Committees, Term Limits…OH MY! Marilyn Lesmeister
Come! Ask questions! Do you know the purpose and structure of your County 4-H Association? Learn more! Would you like to ‘Make the Best Better’ within the culture of County 4-H Associations? Receive a bag of tools to enhance its function. Share ideas. Get ready to be part of valuable change, to Make the Best Better, within your County 4-H Association.

FCS Classic Lynette Black
National Contests are not just for livestock members! Curious about the opportunity for your Family and Consumer Science members to participate in a National event? This class introduces you to the five contests that make up the National FCS Classic, and shares how your members can qualify to represent the Oregon 4-H program at the National event held in Denver, CO.

Marbled Meat: Teaching Livestock Judging Skills Erin Heideman
Preparing your 4-H club members for livestock judging at the county fair can be hard. Learn some quick and easy ways to help your members be more competitive! Session will include how to develop oral reasons, videos to share with the club for practice, and ways to deliver information to get your kids towards the top of the judging list.
Session 3 – 1:30pm-2:20pm

Demystifying Record Books
Roberta Lundeberg
Records do not have to be an unmanageable and unpleasant task. In this session, you will learn why records are important, what records are needed, how to fill them out properly, and some techniques to make the whole job easier and even fun.

Staying Safe in the Green: 4-H Financial Matters!
Marilyn Lesmeister
Do you have the knowledge and tools to put the golf ball on the green – and the money safely in the bank? There are guidelines to help clubs and committees manage funds and other assets safely to protect individuals, members and the organization. Get out your scorecard to compare points with the experts! See checklists and take home resources to help you apply good financial practices. Now is the time to help your 4-H group stay safe and in the green.

Foods, Clothing and Expressive Arts Updates
Lynette Black
Change is in the air! There is one thing we can count on in life and that is change. In our continuing efforts to meet the needs of all aspects of exhibiting at fair, changes to exhibiting at State Fair have been made. This class will review those modifications as well as introduce new future opportunities for you and your members.

Google Like a Pro! Animal Science resources made easy!
Claire Sponseller
Want to teach animal science topics, but not sure how? Participants will learn not only the basics of what to teach, but how to keep those interesting and different each year. Also, learn how to search for different activities that you can use at your club meetings, from videos to quizzes to jeopardy! Join us to learn how to make the best use of your time and the 4-H animal science resources out there!

Session 4 – 2:30pm-3:20pm

How to Teach Outdoor Cooking to Kids
Cindy Brown
Learn why and how to teach outdoor cooking to kids. Come learn how outdoor cooking teaches valuable life skills to children/teens and why that is important for today’s youth. Participants will learn how to address a variety of outdoor cooking challenges, and see how planning, organization and flexibility is key to successful outdoor cooking with kids. Finally, participants will get hands-on experience with a variety of outdoor cooking techniques and equipment while sampling some yummy food, too. Dress Warm!

Let Youth Lead!
Roberta Lundeberg
Leadership development is a cornerstone of the 4-H program. Learn how you can teach leadership skills to your members to have them lead club meetings and become club officers.

Adult to Adult Bullying: Just Say NO!
Marilyn Lesmeister
‘Boot Camp’ brings visions of bullying behavior! But at 4-H Boot Camp, attend this workshop to get valuable tools for changing bullying behavior in groups, reducing opportunities to become a victim, and/or being an ally for someone who is being bullied. Saying NO to bullying is everyone’s responsibility. We will talk about how to work together for safe, healthy and productive adult interaction.

Understanding Teens: A gateway to positive youth development
Lynette Black
The adolescent years are an amazing time of growth for young people; including brain development. Events and occurrences that happen in the years before and during adolescence greatly affect their long-term mental and physical health. Learn how you, a caring adult in their lives can positively impact their lives through intentional programing and by being in their lives.
